Meet Natura's Founder

Amr El Meniawy

CEO, Natura Agro Trade

Dear Valued Partners,

As the CEO of Natura Agro Trade, it is my privilege to welcome you into our world where tradition meets innovation, and quality is our guiding star. For over two decades, we have been at the forefront of the agricultural industry, not just as producers, but as pioneers of a legacy built on the pillars of excellence, sustainability, and trust.

Our journey began on the fertile grounds of our family farm, a testament to our enduring commitment to the earth's bounty. It is here that we learned the art of agriculture, the rhythm of the seasons, and the importance of harmony with nature. This heritage is the bedrock upon which Natura Agro Trade stands, ensuring that every product we offer is a reflection of our dedication to quality.

In a world where the market dynamics are ever-evolving, we understand the importance of staying ahead. Our approach is twofold: embracing the advancements in technology to enhance our processes, and steadfastly upholding the timeless values of natural goodness and nutritional integrity. We are not just preserving fruits and vegetables; we are preserving a promise – a promise of products that are as wholesome as they are delicious.

Sustainability is not a buzzword for us; it is a responsibility we carry with pride. Our commitment to eco-friendly practices and biodiversity is unwavering, as is our mission to support and uplift the local farming communities that are the backbone of our industry. We believe in building a future where business growth and environmental stewardship go hand in hand.

Reliability and competitive pricing are the cornerstones of our B2B relationships. We ensure that our partners, from traders to wholesalers and supermarkets, receive the finest, sustainably sourced produce, tailored to their needs and delivered with efficiency. Our state-of-the-art quality control systems are a testament to our promise – every can, every jar, every batch meets the highest standards, every time.

As we look to the horizon, Natura Agro Trade stands ready to navigate the challenges and opportunities that lie ahead. With a spirit of innovation and a commitment to our core values, we are poised to continue delivering excellence to your shelves and to tables around the world.

Together, let's cultivate success and savor the taste of progress.

Warm regards,
